As a credit union founded by teachers over 70 years ago, supporting education remains a pillar of our core values. Since 1999, Education First has proudly awarded $675,000 in college scholarships to high school seniors in Southeast Texas.

As part of the application process, those seeking scholarships had to successfully complete a series of online financial education courses offered by the credit union to help prepare them for their financial future as independent, young adults. Topics include budgeting, saving, building and managing credit, among others.

“We are incredibly honored to support these students in their pursuit of higher education, and value the fact that we can expose them to financial education that will help them navigate their way through the adult world,” said Carolyn Ridout, VP of Marketing.
